

The San Francisco Public Library
& Diablo Dance Theater
Present

“The Life and Art of Isadora Duncan”

Solo Dancer, Lois Flood

With poet-artist
Marjorie Lynne Wagner

Lois Flood will perform dances lyrical and dramatic, inspired by the classical aesthetic dance movement of California Native Daughter Isadora Duncan (1877-1927.) The dances are lively and expressive, a stunning selection of classical music expressing a potpourri of dance styles, lyrical to the revolutionary. Greek myths are the theme of many dances, with costumes designed of flowing silk. Guest Narrator Marjorie Lynne Wagner will read quotes by Isadora. The Life and Art of Isadora is culturally enriching and entertaining. All ages will enjoy these exquisite, historical dances from the repertory of this legendary cultural icon.

“To awaken human emotion is the highest level of art”
—Isadora Duncan

Saturday, November 29, 2014, 1:00 pm
Koret Auditorium, San Francisco Public Library, Main Branch, 100 Larkin Street, San Francisco

